

MEMBERS NEWS 5TH NOVEMBER 2009

Get free online access to The Journal of Corporate Law Studies and Law and Financial Markets Review until 1st January 2010!

This offer is aimed at anyone who thinks that they may be interested in subscribing and is open to librarians and individual scholars. Registering couldn't be simpler: just visit <http://www.ingentaconnect.com/content/hart> and follow the on-screen instructions.

The Journal of Corporate Law Studies is the established international forum for thorough analysis of corporate, securities and financial law

"An excellent journal, particularly useful for its theoretical and comparative breadth. Deserves to be read by any serious scholar in the field." Gerard McCormack, University of Leeds

"Invaluable for its interesting, topical and wide-ranging articles written from a variety of perspectives, national and international." Brenda Hannigan, University of Southampton

The leading source of informed comment on legal developments affecting the financial markets, Law and Financial Markets Review, edited by Roger McCormick of the London School of Economics, is:

"An excellent journal for financial lawyers, topical and written by experts." Philip Wood, Special Global Counsel, Allen & Overy LLP

"A stimulating and analytical approach to current legal issues in the markets that is of great interest to all financial lawyers." Keith Clark, Managing Director, Morgan Stanley (Legal and Compliance)

For further information on either journal, please visit www.hartjournals.co.uk